

The public airwaves need to remain balanced, especially during a presidential election. Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to force their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary days before the election is dangerous to our democracy and should not be allowed.

Sinclair uses the public airwaves free of charge, and is obligated by law to serve the public interest. But when large companies control the airwaves, we get more of what's good for the bottom line and less of what we need for our democracy.

Sinclair's actions show why we need to strengthen media ownership rules, not weaken them. Thank you.
